IN FAVOR OF THE CENTAUR CO. in the Castoria Case,

In the United States Circuit Court Tuesday afternoon Judge Adams handed down an opinion in the suit of the against Samuel W. Eslinger, of St. Louis, the suit being for an injunction to restrain the defendant from using the plaintiff's remedy, "Castoria."

It was stated in complainant's bill that the Centaur Company, of which Charles H. Fletcher is president, is the sole manufacturer of "Castoria," and alleged that the defendant had been selling medicine in packages closely reirivers, but its homeless Katy! Thank you, governor."

The attorneys in this suit were Sedlon and Blair of St. Louis, and F. H. Scott, of Chicago, for the complainants and Michael Kineally for the defendant. The preliminary injunction is understood to settle the point of law involved, but the question of damages will be adjudged when the case has its final hearing.

The bottles of the original "Castoria" manufactured by the Centaur Company bear the facsimile signature of the presdent, Charles H. Fletcher, on the label, while the bottles sold by the defendant company bore on the label the words 'Pitcher's Baby Castoria." It is said hat criminal proceedings will follow, and that several arrests may be made.
